

Dear society members and friends

Blagdon Parish Magazine's online newsletter

The current Covid-19 pandemic means that it is also impossible to distribute paper copies of Blagdon Parish Magazine. Instead, the publishers have produced an on-line newsletter. BLHS has contributed a piece about how Blagdon celebrated VE Day 75 years ago, and there is also an article from Betty Silburn about her experiences in central London on that historic day. Another article likely to be of interest to members is one the Newsletter commissioned from respected local archaeologist Vince Russett about CHERT, looking back over their achievements to mark their disbanding earlier this year.

To have an electronic copy of the PARISH newsletter sent to you at no charge, just send your email address to: blagdonnewsletter@gmail.com.

Alternatively you can access an online version at:

I wish you all good health in the times ahead
